To ensure high visual impact and consistency with JMIR's standards, we offer a professional visual abstract creation service.

This streamlined process results in a visually compelling abstract tailored to showcase your research as a Table of Contents (TOC) image.

Instructions for this add-on service are available in our knowledge base article: "What is a Visual Abstract?"

If you have created your own visual abstract, you have the option to publish it as a multimedia appendix file, though it will not be used as the TOC image.

If you have any further inquiries, please contact support@jmir.org
